

SIX TWILIGHTS

AARON GERBER'S SHORT BIOGRAPHY

Aaron Gerber was born in the United States in Maine. He lived in Maine until moving to Amherst, MA in 2000 to attend Hampshire College. Though he had previously been involved with a number of musical projects involving indie-rock and folk, in 2003 he developed an interest in ambient, non-teleological music. He studied computer music and learned from the works of Brian Eno, Fennesz, John Cage and the likes. Six Twilights is the result of combining his interest in stasis and ambient textures with his love of traditional melodic song writing. The project attempts to embed a deep warmth, accessibility and a human sense of communication into what can sometimes be a coldly digital form of music. After completing Six Twilights in 2004 Aaron moved to Portland Oregon where he founded the indie-folk group A Weather which is on Team Love Records.
